To Ohio's NASP archers:

Congratulations to all the archers who competed at the 2013 National Archery in the Schools Program World Championship!

You competed against some of the best target archers in the world in St. Louis, and your hard work, practice, and dedication were rewarded with well-deserved accolades. Your excellent shooting helped show, again, why Ohio is one of the top NASP states in the country.

The Ohio Department of Natural Resources, Division of Wildlife is proud of your accomplishments. Thanks for being a wonderful ambassador to the sport of target archery, and representing Ohio on a national stage. Have fun and shoot straight in your future archery pursuits!
